Hurray for Santa Claus!

He's working for us like a steam engine. But it's more like play than work with such a jolly old fellow about. Not a soul in the place but has a smile 24 hours long from his fun making. And we are just chuck full of curiosity. Seems as if he must have brought all the best things he's made this last twelve months, and my how he remembers you all—tells how little Willie Smith tried to pull his whiskers last year, and how little Lucy Williams came and sat all one morning with him and didn't dare say a word for fear she'd frighten him away, and how little Eloise cried when she found someone else had taken the very doll carriage she wanted; "but there'll be no such disappointments as that this year," says he, "there's enough for them all, bless them," and we guess he's right.

We got a peep into his bag yesterday, and such a sight you never saw before—sleds and sleighs, dolls' carriages and carts, dolls' dishes and little toilet sets, wagons and horses, velocipedes and automobiles—'would take pages to tell you all the things he's brought you. Just be patient a day or two and Santa'll have his little Fairy Land all built and then you must come and find just what you want most. Have mamma tell Santa Claus about it, he'll fix it for you.

MERGER HEARING TO BE EXPEDITED.

Judges Overrule Contention of Unconstitutionality.

Next Step Not Known, but New Haven Road May Appeal.

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—The certificate of Attorney General Bonaparte requesting the expediting of the so-called merger case, in which the government seeks to compel the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company to relinquish its holdings of the stock of the Boston & Maine road, was granted today by three judges of the United States circuit court, and the contention of the attorneys for the railroad that the expediting act is unconstitutional is overruled.

The objections of the respondents in the case were heard November 17 by Judges Colt, Putnam and Lowell. The Attorney General, being represented by Wade Ellis of Ohio, assistant to the Attorney General, and District Attorney Asa P. French, while Colonel J. H. Benton appeared for the New Haven road.

The opinion of the judges in the case is as follows:

"The court having considered the certificate of the Attorney General, filed October 1st, 1908, and the suggestions of the respondents in reference thereto, filed October 29, * * *

"It is ordered that the case proceed in accordance with the certificate of the Attorney General filed October 1, 1908, pursuant to the first section of chapter 544 of the act approved February 11, 1903, so far as that statute relates to the personality and the number of judges to sit therein."

Neither in the petition nor at the hearing were the merits of the case referred to, yet counsel for the New Haven company intimated that this phase of the suit would be fought through to the court of last resort, and it was expected today, after the decision, that an appeal would be taken on the constitutionality of the expediting statute. Attorneys for the New Haven company refused to say today what their next action would be in the case.

The bill in equity filed by the Attorney General last May in the United States circuit court for this district seeks to prevent the merger of the Boston & Maine with the New Haven road, under the Sherman anti-trust act. Under the usual procedure, the case would go on the regular court calendar for a hearing before one judge, and in case of an adverse decision to the road, could be carried to the court of appeals, and then to the Supreme Court; but the Attorney General, acting under the provision of the so-called expediting act, which gives him discretion, in cases brought under the Sherman act, to order a speedy trial, filed the necessary certificate October 1, which brought forth an objection on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the expediting act, on the part of the road, October 29. At the hearing before the three judges, November 17, both sides made extensive arguments and filed briefs.

There was no intimation today as to what the next step in the legal controversy would be, but it was expected that every stage of the contest would be bitterly fought by both sides.

WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT.

New Haven Road Men Think Case Must Pass to New Administration.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 4.—In railroad circles here the opinion prevails that the constitutional questions involved in the three judges' decision in Boston on the matter of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company's relations to the Boston & Maine stock control will go to the United States Supreme Court for final adjudication, and that the case must necessarily pass over to a new administration at Washington. Beyond all these questions of law lies the matter of the actual holdings of the Boston & Maine and the Massachusetts trolley stock, the one, since legal proceedings began, having been transferred to John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn., and the Massachusetts trolley control having passed to individual directors of the New Haven company, through purchase of New England Investment Company shares. This undoubtedly will be the second line of the New Haven Company's legal defense, should that branch of the case be reached after constitutional questions are passed upon.

IN CLEVELAND'S MEMORY.

Association of Life Insurance Presidents Holds Notable Exercises.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Notable exercises in memory of the late Grover Cleveland, ex-President of the United States, were planned for the opening session in this city today of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, of which he had been chairman during the year and a half between the time of its organization and his death. The program, which was brief, included addresses by President Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and Dr. John H. Finley, president of the College of the City of New York, and the reading of letters which had been received from former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, ex-Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia and Henry A. Herbert, a member of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet. This meeting had been looked forward to as an interesting forerunner of the general memorial meeting for Mr. Cleveland, to be held in this city March 18 of next year.

For the afternoon a taxation conference was planned, with addresses by Robert Lynn Cox, general counsel and manager of the association, on objects of the conference and the necessity of co-operation; Professor Lester W. Zartman of Yale University, on "Necessity for Reform of Life Insurance Company Taxation;" President John F. Dryden of the Prudential Insurance Company, on "Taxation of Life Insurance in the United States;" Robert H. Whitten, on "Need of Improved Legislative Methods," and "A Message from the South and West," by Samuel B. Smith, president of the American Life convention.

WARSHIPS MAKE A DEMONSTRATION.

Dutch Vessels Steam Along the Venezuelan Coast.

Two Cruisers Go to Maracaibo for Similar Purpose.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Dec. 4.—Three Dutch warships, battleship Jacob Van Heemskerk and cruisers Friesland and Gelderland have made a demonstration against Venezuela. Together they steamed yesterday along the coast from Puerto-Cabello to La Guayra, at a distance of 3,000 yards from the shore. The Jacob Van Heemskerk returned here this morning. The two cruisers are going to Maracaibo, where they will make a similar demonstration. This news was brought to Willemstad by the battleship.

The demonstration of yesterday is regarded as indicating that the preparations for an effective blockade of the Venezuelan coast are completed. It is reported here that The Netherlands battleship De Ruijter left Holland yesterday for this port.

The situation between Venezuela and The Netherlands has been strained for some time. The trouble arose directly from the expulsion from Caracas of M. De Reus, the diplomatic representative of Holland, but other incidents have added to the ill feeling. The Netherlands government threatened President Castro with a naval demonstration but delayed taking actual steps pending efforts to straighten out the difficulties. President Castro's reply to the last communication from Holland was to the effect that The Netherlands sent to Caracas a special agent empowered to treat with him.

President Castro is at present absent from Venezuela, having left La Guayra November 23, on board steamer Guadeloupe, for Bordeaux. He gave it out that he was going to France to secure skilled medical attention. Vicente Gomez is acting president of Venezuela during his absence.

Venezuela has made preparations to resist any act of hostility. The forts at La Guayra, Puerto Cabello and Maracaibo are reported to resemble if Holland takes extreme measures.

MAY LAND AT SANTANDER.

Castro Has Not Notified Dr. Israel of Desire for Operation.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—Dr. Israel said today that he has received no notice that President Castro of Venezuela desires his services for an operation. It is thought here that President Castro will have steamer Guadeloupe at Santander, Spain, instead of continuing on to Bordeaux.

CATTARO NOT BOMBARDED.

Report Concerning Montenegrin Forces Denied Absolutely.

BUDAPESTH, Dec. 4.—The report current here today that Montenegrin forces in an bombarding Cattaro, an Austrian seaport on the Adriatic, dominated by Montenegrin territory, at 9 o'clock this morning has been declared by the war office to be absolutely without foundation.

STEAMER ARRIVED.

Boston, Dec. 4, Hesperian, from Glasgow.

SIMON TO MAKE A TRIUMPHAL ENTRY.

Will Go to Port au Prince Heading Entire Force.

Parties Perfecting Organizations; Complications Feared.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, Dec. 4.—General Antoine Simon, leader of the successful revolutionary move against Nord Alexis, has decided to postpone his entrance into Port au Prince until tomorrow, because Friday is regarded as a day of ill omen. Furthermore, he intends to make a triumphal entry, at the head of all his troops, some 5,000 or 6,000 men, and his entire force has not yet been concentrated at his headquarters. The general is today about 15 miles from Port au Prince.

The night passed quietly in Port au Prince. There were no disorders of any kind, and hopes are entertained that normal conditions will be rapidly restored. The committee of public safety has re-organized the municipal police force. A number of new police stations have been established, and there is good reason to believe that henceforth order will be maintained throughout the city.

The various political parties which have in the past attempted to install their presidents through revolutionary moves are today perfecting their organizations. General Sam is here, and the arrival of General Firmin and General Fouchard is expected any day. The presence of these leaders in the capital may bring about complications. There are fears that the northern part of the republic may be arrayed against the southern section should the question of who is to be the next president come to an open contest. There is a strong element in favor of the candidacy of Cincinnatus Leconte, who was at one time minister of foreign affairs. General Simon, however, has the distinct advantage of being at the head of a well-organized and equipped force, and he would seem to be the master of the situation.

Nord Alexis will go to Kingston, Jamaica. The former president and the men who took refuge on board French cruiser Duguay Trouin with him will be transferred tomorrow to German steamer Siberia. This vessel is due in port tomorrow. The government garrison at Miconard, when informed of the flight of Alexis, made off to the north. They consented to surrender their artillery to the provisional government, but they insisted on taking their rifles with them.

"NO GOVERNMENT IN HAYTI."

Congress Will Work Out Details in Special Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Despatches received by the State Department from Minister Furniss today point out that there is no government in Hayti at this time, and, in fact, no "President Legitime." Legitime, Mr. Furniss explains, is merely chairman of the committee on public safety. The public safety committee will arrange for a special session of congress to work out the details of a government.

TO FRAME NAVAL WARFARE LAWS.

Powers in London Submit Their Various Views.

England, America and Japan Agree on Chief Proposals.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The conference of the powers called by Great Britain for the framing of a code of laws for naval warfare and for the formation of the international prize court recommended by The Hague congress was opened at the foreign office today. With an interval for the Christmas holidays, it is expected that the conference will continue until February 1. At the request of the British government, the powers which accepted invitations to the conference have forwarded a list of subjects which they consider should be discussed. The United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Spain, Holland and Japan will be represented. The American delegates are Admiral Charles H. Stockton and Professor George Grafton Wilson of Brown University; Commander John H. Gibbons, naval attache at the London embassy, will act as aide. Great Britain will be represented by the Earl of Desart and Captain Charles L. Ottley, director of naval intelligence, and secretary of the committee of imperial defense. An address of wlcome was delivered by Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey.

At the suggestion of Germany, the powers have submitted their views on various points. The United States, Great Britain and Japan are agreed in principle, at least, on the most important proposals. Great Britain is desirous of abolishing contraband entirely; America and Japan do not go so far, but they would agree if only munitions of war should be declared contraband. The Continental powers will urge the continuation of the present system, under which the belligerents declare what is contraband. Great

MAY RESTRICT MEMBERSHIP.

British Lords Will Demand Qualifications Besides Those of Birth.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The possession of qualifications besides those of birth will be necessary for membership in the House of Lords if the report of the select committee of the House of Lords appointed to suggest a plan for the reform of that body and which was issued today becomes the law of the realm.

The committee finds it undesirable that the possession of a peerage should of itself give the right to sit and vote in the House of Lords, and it recommends that fitness should be the main test for admission.

It then sets forth that all hereditary peers should be formed into an electoral body for the purpose of electing 200 of their number to sit and vote as the "Lords of Parliament," not for life, but for a single Parliament; that the spiritual Lords of Parliament be reduced to 16, to be elected by the bishops, two archbishops sitting during the tenure of their sees and the other eight for the duration of each Parliament; that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have official representatives in the House of Lords; that a number of hereditary peers, estimated at 130, possessing certain qualifications, should sit without the necessity of election, these to include men who have held the post of cabinet minister, viceroy, governor general of Canada and governor of the larger colonies and naval and military officers of high rank, and that 20 years service in the House of Commons shall entitle one to a seat among the peers.

This plan will give the reformed House of Lords about 350 members, namely, three peers of the blood royal, 200 peers to be elected, about 130 qualified hereditary peers, 16 spiritual Lords and five judges.

The report adds that the committee feels that the party in power in the House of Commons should be able to count on a substantial following in the House of Lords, but as opinions as to the best means of arranging this object are so diverse it is unable to make any recommendations.

SHAH FAVORS CONSTITUTION.

Considers Its Institution a Necessity for Persia's Advancement.

TEHERAN, Dec. 3.—The Shah today asserted in emphatic terms his belief in a constitution, and said that he desired to dispel the wrong impressions regarding his attitude which have reached the outside world.

"I consider the institution of a constitution as essentially necessary for the advancement of Persia and the well-being and prosperity of the Persian people," he said. "I realize what a great source of progress parliamentary government has been to other nations, but the deplorable results of the recent institution at Teheran of the Mejlis (national assembly) give ample proof of the necessity for a gradual development of the system in this country.

"It is necessary that the people be brought gradually to appreciate the value of these institutions, and this is my aim. There are two parties in the country—one for and the other against a constitution, but it is precisely for this reason that I fear a hasty decision might lead to disturbances, which I am anxious to avoid. The work of the last Mejlis caused sufficient trouble and bloodshed. The council of state, which I have summoned, will deal with all these questions. I hope that the council ultimately will develop into an important assembly."

COLBY TO BECOME NEW YORKER.

Defeated Reformer in Politics Leaves New Jersey Home for Manhattan.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 3.—State Senator Everett Colby, leader of the new idea wing of the Republican party in New Jersey, persistent reformer in politics and intimate friend of Winston Churchill and Senator La Follette, has leased a private house on the upper West Side of New York city, and he and his family will move there from their fine home in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J., tomorrow. This fact led today to an undenied report that Senator Colby proposed to abandon his New Jersey home and live permanently in New York, and possibly continue there his energetic fight for clean politics.

Senator Colby is now in Cleveland. His wife said it was true that they had taken a large house in one of the West Eighties, Manhattan, and would move there this week, but she refused to confirm the report that Mr. Colby proposed to live permanently in New York.

Gardner Colby, cousin of the Senator and one of his advisers, said that the senator would live in New York at least through the winter. He said the house had been leased and the family would move this week, but as to the permanency of such home only the senator could speak.

Senator Colby was defeated for reelection this fall, and this was accepted as a death blow to his reputed gubernatorial and United States Senatorial ambition. He was greatly disappointed over his defeat and openly accused the regular Republican organization of treachery at the polls.

ROOSEVELT'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Heavy Fire Hosecart Just Missed Hitting President's Carriage.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—It was learned tonight that President Roosevelt had a narrow escape from serious injury while driving yesterday. Lieutenant J. B. Lyons of the local fire department, who was driving a heavy fire hosecart, pulled his horses upon their haunches to avoid dashing into the chief executive's carriage. The fire horses were running fast and their heads, it is said, almost struck the carriage as they fell. The hose wagon was slightly damaged. The firemen were responding to an alarm of fire from the home of Representative Frank O. Lowden of Illinois.

WARSHIPS ORDERED TO SMYRNA.

Consul's Request for Visit of Fleet to be Granted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—At the request of the United States Consul at Smyrna, Rear Admiral Sperry, commanding the American fleet of battleships now on its way home, has been ordered to send the Ohio and Missouri to Smyrna. This will curtail the visit of these ships to Athens two days.

LIABILITIES $1,635,930.

Shown in Schedules for Brokerage Firm of A. O. Brown and Co.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Liabilities of $1,635,930 and assets of $1,228,123 are shown in the schedules filed in the United States District Court today for the brokerage firm of A. O. Brown & Co., which failed last summer. Claims aggregating $2,241,800 are scheduled and claims of $1,151,579 are admitted. There are a few minor claims. The assets are described as bills, notes and securities amounting to $1,330,000, debts due on open account $3,130,933, deposits in banks $50,190, and property in reversions, trusts and the like $5,000.

OIL TRUST SECRET SAFE.

Archbold's Cross-Examination Fails to Reveal Reason for Loans.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Frustrated for more than a year in his efforts to trace the mysterious loans of $22,000,000 made by the Standard Oil Company to P. S. Trainer of the Southern Pipe Line Company, an Oil Trust subsidiary, Frank Kellogg, the government inquisitor, tried hard today but in vain, to draw the secret from John D. Archbold during a searching cross-examination of the Oil Trust's vice president. When finally Mr. Archbold was permitted to leave the stand the prosecutor was apparently no nearer a solution of the puzzling transaction than when the snag was first encountered.

Mr. Archbold said he did not know of any reason for the loan, which, he said, might have represented the adjustments between refining companies which Mr. Trainer supplied with oil. Mr. Trainer has testified that he did not know of the loans, and never received the money.—Mr. Archbold declared that "all his talk of favoritism to the Standard by the tariff is bosh."

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular Correspondence of the News.]

The Ladies' Association of St. Paul's Church met at the guild house Thursday afternoon and evening. Committees were appointed for the various departments appertaining to Christmas festivities and much needle work was accomplished. The rector, Rev. J. Sturgis Pearce stated that the anniversary of the opening of St. Paul's for the first service, 75 years ago, would occur at Christmas and the anniversary of its consecration by Bishop Henshaw March 7, 1909. At that time there were only 11 churches in the diocese, St. Paul's making the twelfth, now there are 60. Rev. Mr. Fenner was the first minister. It was decided to celebrate the occasion, but as Christmas would be too busy a time, and March 7 comes in Lent and on Sunday, the time and manner was left for further consideration. Supper was served to about 30 by the committee—Mrs. Henry C. Anthony, Mrs. John L. Borden and Mrs. Joseph W. Greene; the waitresses being Miss Harriet Frances Sanford and Miss Lillian Waeeler.

Rev. Allen Jacobs, for some time rector of St. Mary's and latterly curate of Christ Church Cambridge, has been called to the rectorship of Christ Church, Plymouth, which is the only Episcopal Church in that historic town, which has 12,000 population and is growing fast. There are several large industries and a summer colony. The town is progressive and modern as to its municipal equipment and has fine schools. The rectory is one of the first in the diocese. The church is a small building but there is on hand about $15,000 for a new edifice and the parish is united and ready to work. On the evening of November 30, Mr. Jacobs was presented with $125 in gold, the gift of the rector, wardens and people of Christ Church. Mr. Jacobs and family left Cambridge for their new home yesterday.

Miss Tuck, who with Miss Roach spent last month with Miss Roach's people in St. John, New Brunswick, has returned home.

Mr. Richard Chase was given a surprise party on the occasion of his birthday. About 25 were present. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Chase entertained a large family party last week—Mr. and Mrs. John F. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bennett and their daughter Carrie of Bridgewater; Mr. and Mrs. Luther P. Chase and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chase and children, the company numbering 18, all sitting down at one table.

Mrs. William Deblois of Newport spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pitt S. Littlefield.

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

THE GATES OF DREAM

[illegible] and above all things true and tender
Come forth from [illegible] the gates.
[illegible] Angels [illegible] each a [illegible]
And souls are [illegible] the song of [illegible]

Things that the sky-heart leads in secret keeping,
Let eyes of mockery mark in cold surprise,
Lest even while we have [illegible], souls have wept and
Break in the land from fever and disease.

There are the things that crush the [illegible] to madness—
The whispers treachery, sin and bitter wrong—
There, too, how weak the garland-chains of gladness;
There, too, the chalices of grief and pain are strong.

But, also there are joys quick, fresh as children;
Sweet haunts on healthy hill, by gleaming streams;
Through misty dell, and dream-dim [illegible] and
Are calm, with peace, within the gates of dream.

There too are all delights without regretting;
Heaven-certain teachings of appointed goals;
Love, worthy, wooing, warm and unforgetting;
And dearest touch of hands, and lips and souls.

Ah me! to be where joys, bright, pure, and tender,
Come conquering for life's crucifixion pain,
And then to wake and know that perfect splendor
Is shut behind the gates of dream again!

FANCIES.

It's generally the chicken-hearted man who is henpecked.—[Philadelphia Record.

"Have you lived in this town very long, Miss Sear?"

"Of course not! Do I look old enough to have lived anywhere very long?"[Cleveland Leader.

Hewitt—And then my automobile turned turtle.

Jewett—Get out, you nature faker!—[Bohemian.

Clelestin—And has Mr. Fryor's church such a small congregation?

Hilda—Yes, indeed. Every time he says "Dearly Beloved" you feel as if you had received a proposal.—[Bohemian.

"Yes" said the bankrupt, "I lost my fortune reaching for an ideal."

"Very interesting. And what was your ideal?"

"A bigger fortune than I had."—[Philadelphia Ledger.

"Don't you think that witness's memory is sadly deficient?" said one lawyer.

"Not a bit of it," answered the other. "Sometimes it takes a fine memory to remember what to forget."—[Washington Star.

Customer—Why, I thought you called him 'the colt'?

Ostler—Sure, yer honor, and that's the name he's had for the last 20 years, and he sticks to it like a respectable baste, the same as yourself.—[Punch.

Creditor—Say, I sent you my bill a month ago.

Editor—Yes, but you wrote across the back of it, Please call and settle. We make it a rule to pay no attention to manuscripts written on both sides.—[Cleveland Leader.

Carsone—Talking of nervy men, my neighbor Smith is about the limit.

Gebhart—What's he done?

Carsone—He called over yesterday morning to borrow my gun, saying he wanted to kill a dog that kept him awake nights.

Gebhart—Well?

Carsone—He killed my dog!—[Judge.

RUMORS OF TARIFF REVISION.

Reports of what the Payne tariff bill will be need not be taken too seriously. Even if reports come from members of the committee, they may be humorous or exaggerated, or erroneous prognostications. Yet it is worth while to notice that members of the committee are giving out that the committee will report drastic changes in the tariff, putting many raw materials and some manufactured articles on the free list.

We do not see that business anywhere is disturbed by the fact that the ways and means committee is having hearings on the tariff. One of the iron trade papers said not long ago that tariff agitation was disturbing the market, but it also reported prices firm and increased sales so that the disturbance could not have been serious. We doubt if there is any disturbance of the market—if prices are affected or if any one is postponing the purchase of a single ton of iron because pig iron may be put on the free list some time next year. But if a Democratic administration were coming in, and if a Democratic ways and means committee were giving hearings, and if it were reported from such a committee that steel, iron, coal, wood, hides and shoes would be put on the free list, we take it that there would be a great hubbub in the high tariff newspapers over the menace to business which lay in the proposal to overhaul the rates of duty.

Nearly all New England industries are secondary; that is, they buy raw materials or materials to be subjected to further processes of manufacture. They would be benefited decidedly by cheaper wool, wool, coal, hides and metals. They may not obtain them; it is hardly likely that tariff revision will be very radical. But they can contemplate tariff reductions with entire equanimity; they are now subjected to heavy taxes for the benefit of the owners of forests, mines and sheep ranches.

WATER FRONT IMPROVEMENT.

For some time there has been evident a movement on the part of cities blessed with water fronts to do something to improve the appearance of these, and now Washington has joined the number and has framed a plan for rectifying the entire river front of that city and the Anacosta basin. It is estimated that the cost will aggregate $25,000,000, but Congress will be asked to appropriate the money in small annual sums, to be used as the work proceeds. The plan drawn up will add materially to what has already been done to make the capital one of the most beautiful cities in this country. The Potomac River front with land itself admirably to such a scheme for improvement and the completed work will increase greatly the attractiveness of the city.

The idea of the value of attractive approaches to a city whether by land or water, has not been given much thought in the past and it has been only recently that much attention has been paid anywhere to the improvement of water fronts or railroad approaches to cities. Of the three approaches, overlooking the line and the more places the desirability of doing anything to increase the beauty of these sections, of which a visitor or traveler gets his impression of a city, has been given comparatively little. In some cities steps have been taken, chiefly to abolish the nuisance of dilapidated wharves which have outlived their place to lay out approaches which will please the eye as well as satisfy the needs of business. For freight yards and other approaches for freight traffic and other approaches for freight traffic and other approaches for freight traffic

THE BOULEVARD AGAIN.

Familiar Arguments Reiterated on Both Sides.

Board of Aldermen Hearing on Abandonment of Layout, and the Naval Hospital.

[illegible] Aldermen gave a hearing yesterday evening in the Council [illegible] the proposition to abandon [illegible] extension of Washington [illegible] the present north end to [illegible]. Mayor Clarke stated [illegible] action was to abandon [illegible] those in favor of [illegible] would be first [illegible] in opposition. There [illegible] large attendance, but be[illegible] was over some [illegible] developed.

[illegible] Sheffield appeared for [illegible] Swinburne heirs and [illegible] for the abandonment of [illegible] so far as it affects the [illegible] called; they did not [illegible] to other places. He [illegible] a contract with the navy [illegible] Maitland place for a naval [illegible]. This contract was ar[illegible] this extension took [illegible] when the extension was [illegible] the government [illegible] the land. Therefore [illegible] ask to have the roadway [illegible] that they may carry out [illegible] with the government.

[illegible] believed it for the interest of [illegible] to have this done [illegible] any interests. The [illegible] has not increased as [illegible] but the naval and mili[illegible] have greatly increased, [illegible] they may be called the [illegible] which Newport now has. One [illegible] officer had told him that [illegible] spent some $190,000 during [illegible]. Much of this probably went [illegible] out of town, but con[illegible] for local labor. Then [illegible] other disbursing officers.

[illegible] of this hospital in New[illegible] depends on the Secretary of the Navy. [illegible] has the money and the [illegible] to designate the location. It is [illegible] that when Congress meets it [illegible] this from the Secretary and [illegible] in which case it is fair [illegible] that some state with more [illegible] than Rhode Island has, [illegible]. This hospital means an [illegible] of some $250,000 in New[illegible] for construction. The hospital [illegible] carried on and this means [illegible]. He saw no advantage to [illegible] to continue this road as pro[illegible] it might be carried as far as [illegible] Maitland place and thence by [illegible] street widened and across the [illegible] which it would cost less to [illegible].

[illegible] also appeared, to speak in [illegible] of the abandonment, and R. M. [illegible] spoke for those opposed. [illegible] if any abutter had asked [illegible] the abandonment of the road, and [illegible] had done so in [illegible]. He asked if the owners had [illegible] notified that it was pro[illegible] to abandon the road. The city [illegible] reported that either they had [illegible] personally served or registered [illegible] had been sent them.

He then referred to letters which [illegible] had been received from Senator Wetmore and Congressman Capron in re[illegible] this matter. He had one from Senator Hale, chairman of the Senate committee on the navy, which stated [illegible] the House and Senate committees [illegible] the navy would carefully consider [illegible] recommendations of the Secretary of the Navy in regard to a hospital site at Newport. Senator Hale evidently knows what he is talking about and his letter shows that the House and Senate committees have the say [illegible] site and not Mr. Metcalf, or Mr. Newberry, or any one else who [illegible] the Secretary of the Navy, and the statement that the Secretary has the power of locating is wrong. Congress will locate this hospital, and [illegible] sending Mr. Sheffield down [illegible] see that Newport has a fair [illegible]. The talk that, if this hospital [illegible] located at this place, it will not [illegible] anywhere here, is therefore [illegible] foundation.

As he understood it, the abandonment of the road at the Maitland place will affect the entire layout, for he understood that Miss Hunter said [illegible] the land on condition that the road should run along the shore. There is no hurry about this matter and the board can afford to await the action of Congress. People do not wish [illegible] hospital located at this place. There is a feeling that it will depreciate property.

Mr. Sheffield said that letters from Senator Wetmore and Representative Capron urging speedy action in regard [illegible].

Mr. Stover spoke at some length—[illegible] resident of the Point but as [illegible] and for the interests of the [illegible] as a whole—in favor of the boulevard. [illegible] had long been demanded [illegible] possible at a nominal cost. [illegible] Oliver cannot be later [illegible]. All that is against it is the [illegible] which the Board of Aldermen asked to make good. He [illegible] that the members of the [illegible] had a revolver pointed at their [illegible] were threatened by those [illegible] this land. They were be[illegible] people who desire work. [illegible] hope to have of a hospital [illegible] Board should have a [illegible] on this matter on the [illegible]. Here is a bribe offered [illegible] city, to locate this hospital [illegible]. If a hospital is [illegible] location point is a more [illegible]. Where the boulevard is [illegible] be as accessible. He [illegible] a choice of the [illegible] Hospital, that by all [illegible] is worth more to [illegible] way.

Huntington asked if any [illegible] or those connected [illegible] had favored this site. [illegible] To him it seemed as [illegible] Hospitals are located [illegible] the cases to be [illegible] and the hospital [illegible] convenience, but the [illegible] best place for a hospital [illegible] and with the con[illegible] road should run along [illegible] the gun factory [illegible] street he was [illegible] in favor of this road [illegible] by representa[illegible] to give land to the [illegible] it seemed to him [illegible] of the city to buy [illegible].

[illegible] said that if this road [illegible] in the future it should [illegible] to open a road there, it [illegible] $79,000 to $80,000 for [illegible] had for $17,000.

[illegible] said he would like to [illegible] the naval men on the board [illegible] Clarke said perhaps [illegible] would respond; he replied [illegible] at one time Mr. [illegible] Navy Department [illegible] this site as the only [illegible] excluding others, and [illegible] for it, not knowing [illegible] project through it. [illegible] stock lobbing in the [illegible] as the Navy is con[illegible].

[illegible] Hutchinson said he is not [illegible] Newport, but is a taxpayer [illegible] said he saw no reason [illegible] $250,000 not be [illegible] heard, and he [illegible] in favor of the boulevard, as a [illegible] part of Newport's attractions, in the same line as the Avenue and the ocean drive. Newport should have the fine shore section opened to increase its attractiveness. The attractions for people of moderate means should be increased, and this section seemed to him a desirable one to open. They are talking about the government; who is the government? Why, the people of Newport and of the country, and let Mr. Metcalf or Mr. Newberry, or whoever else happens to be in office for the moment. There is a desire for shore lands, when roads can be loaded. That is one reason for the growth of Jamestown, and here is a lot of shore land which can be opened. In his opinion the boulevard was worth more to Newport than the hospital would be.

Horatio B. Wood spoke forcibly and at some length on the benefits of the bay shore and the need of opening it to the public, as proposed in this boulevard. He asked the Board to stand by its action in opening the road. In years to come people passing through this fine road would have cause to remember gratefully this Board of Aldermen for opening the road.

Dr. Barker spoke at some length. He said that there is no danger of contagion from the hospital, because it would be properly cared for. He cited the Newport Hospital.

Mr. Wood said the Newport Hospital is a great institution, but no one had ever suggested that it was a source of income. Yet it is given as one reason for the location of this naval hospital that it would be a source of income.

Mr. W. Hall made some remarks in inference as to the board believing that the government is to abandon this bay as a great naval base, and if it does the board believes such a base would be allowed to exist without a hospital, as some of the medical officers have given the public to understand would be the case if this particular piece of land could not be purchased.

At 5:30 the hearing ended.

SAILORS FURNISH ENTERTAINMENT

A successful entertainment was given by the sailors of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association at the First Baptist Church last evening. A chowder supper, given by a member of the church, was served to 50 members of the Home Hour Bible Class, and later the entertainment furnished by the sailors was started. The program consisted of piano solo by Owen M. Brandt, violin solo by W. C. Gillett, harmonica solo by John Fugay and vocal selections by P. F. McGovern, Alfred Playdial, A. L. Heid, George Gardner and Ernest A. Zahale.

THE KNICKERBOCKER FIVE.

The Naval Reserve basket ball team will have for its next opponents the Knickerbocker Five of New York. This team has made a fine showing this season in all its contests and should give the local boys a fast game. They have played against Lenox, Danbury, Conn., Liberty Five, Crescents of Paterson, and Fourth Separate Company of Yonkers, and have given all these contestg of the most interesting kind. They held the all-star Danbury team to a score of 17-31 when Danbury had in its line-up "Chief" Mueller, Ward Brennan, Sails, Berger and "Charley" Lynch, which shows that they are traveling fast. They have also held the Crescents to the same score which Gloversville did at Paterson last year. The Reserves were scheduled to play the St. George's team Wednesday night, but have changed the date.

DISTRICT COURT DRAMAS.

There were two dramas at the district court today. Another of the Block Island cases occupied the morning and part of the afternoon. It was against Elmer Allen for assault on a Portuguese, the Portuguese cases being on a different date from the Greek assaults. This took the time of the court to 1 o'clock when the evidence was all in and a recess was taken to 2:15. Then Chief of Police Manchester was in from Tiverton, to try two cases of assault with a dangerous weapon against John Moreo Jos. This it was hoped would be finished this afternoon, as the Tiverton cases do not drag like the Block Island cases.

The cast iron one will bring the line to Oliver avenue, and thence to Thames street. The line will be extended by the use of cement-lined pipe.

OFFICIAL COUNT COMPLETE.

Work of the Aldermen Done Except for Recounts.

Changes in Council Positions But None in Those Elected—The Revised Pluralities.

The Board of Aldermen continued the count of the city ballots Thursday afternoon after a recess for dinner, the work starting about 2:15 and being finished about 6:15, when it felt like taking a rest. But there is no rest for the weary, and the board had a special meeting and a public hearing on the Washington Street extension in the evening.

This morning the count of the Fifth ward was begun about 10 o'clock and the aldermanic and mayor tickets were finished by 11:30, when the Council tickets were taken up. All were anxious to complete the work, so that any recounts which might be asked for might be made, and the work finally laid aside and the resolutions declaring the officers elected passed. The Council tickets were counted by 1:45 and while there were shifts in positions there were no changes in the names of the elect and no defeat.

The board's work was not yet done, however, for Mr. Levy had filed a petition for a recount from T. F. Parnell, who had been elected from the Third ward on the warden's count, but was not elected on the board's count. At 1:30 the board took a recess until 3 o'clock, when the recount of the Third ward was to be made.

In the Fourth ward there was a gain of approximately 100 for Darrah, Miss Hunter, Porter and Sullivan for School Committee, but it was on a clerical error, caused by an error in putting down the figures. There was also a gain of 100 for Anthony for alderman, but this had been discounted by the papers, for it was evident that there was an error in this case and the reports gave Mr. Anthony credit for the other 100 votes.

The changes in the Fourth ward were:

Mayor—Bliss gained 28, Boyle gained 2, Clarke lost 2.

School Committee—Darrah gained 98, Miss Hunter gained 103, Mrs. Marsh gained 2, Porter gained 94, Sullivan gained 95.

Council—Adams gained 14, Bissel lost 3, Butterton gained 21, Carter gained 5, Clarke gained 3, O'Connor the same, Fearing gained 15, Gill lost 2, King lost 6, Lorillard lost 7, Martin gained 1, McCarthy gained 9, Peck lost 28, Oslan the same, Reagan lost 6, D. F. Shea gained 1, T. F. Shea gained 6, M. J. Sullivan gained 11, M. D. Sullivan gained 5, Williams gained 7, Young the same.

There was no change in the elect, but some shifting in positions, Butterton going to No. 2 from 4 and Martin and Carter being tied for third place, Fearing moved up to 8, D. F. Shea to 9 and Lorillard dropped to 10. Williams moved up to 11, M. D. Sullivan to 12 and Reagan dropped to 13. Adams moved up from 17 to 14, but 14 is still outside the list of the elect.

The changes in the Fifth ward were:

Mayor—Bliss gained 1, Boyle gained 2, Clarke gained 3.

School Committee—Darrah gained 2, Miss Hunter gained 7, Mrs. Marsh lost 7, Porter lost 3, Sullivan gained 2.

Aldermen, 1—Albro gained 2, Kingman gained 10, Rogers gained 1. 2—Callahan gained 2, Dyer lost 18, Kauli gained 6, Shepley lost 14. 3—Haire gained 2, Mahoney lost 4, Milne gained 2. 4—Cottrell lost 11, Hale lost 3, Maher the same. 5—Anthony lost 1, Cowles lost 1, Kelly lost 2.

Aldermen, 1—Albro gained 2, Kingman and Rogers the same. 2—Callahan and Kauli the same, Dyer lost 5, Shepley lost 1. 3—Haire lost 1, Mahoney lost 3, Milne lost 9. 4—Cottrell lost 1, Hale the same, Maher lost 1. 5—Anthony gained 1, Cowles lost 1, Kelly lost 3.

Council—Buckley gained 4, O'Hanley lost 2, Bowman lost 2, Morgan gained 3, Hammond lost 2, Kalkman the same, Martin lost 4, L. P. Sullivan lost 5, J. H. Harrington gained 1, O'Neill gained 6, Sweeney lost 1, Kain the same, F. C. Sullivan gained 10, Morris lost 3, Ebbitt gained 11, Whitty gained 2, Barry lost 2, Durkan lost 1, D. E. Sullivan the same, Kane lost 1, Mally gained 1, Shea lost 3, W. Harrington gained 1, Ward lost 3, Lyons gained 3, Hall lost 2, Ewart lost 10, O'Connor lost 2, Hallock lost 1, Dempsey gained 101.

This last gain was a clerical one, for the warden's return showed only 51 for Mr. Dempsey, when it should have been 164. He gained 1 on the recount.

Morgan goes from 1 to 3 and Bowman from 3 to 4, J. H. Harrington goes to 8, Martin to 9, Sweeney and L. P. Sullivan are tied for tenth place, F. C. Sullivan goes to twelfth and Kain drops to 13.

According to the official figures, which are of course not final until the resolution is passed by the board, Boyle's plurality over Clarke for mayor is 252, a decrease of 14; Albro from the First ward has 611 over Kingman, a gain of 1; Shepley has 416 over Callahan, a loss of 22; Mahoney has 478 over Milne, a loss of 6; Cottrell has 555 over Maher, a loss of 14, and Kelly has 24 over Anthony, a loss of 9.

This afternoon Mr. W. F. Adams, who was candidate for the Representative Council from the Fourth ward, asked for a recount of the votes, by the aldermanic count he had two less than Thomas H. Reagan, who was declared elected.

These smouldering feelings of jealousy because the Hope Street High eleven has not played the Rogers High eleven of Newport and yet is proclaimed champion of New England interscholastic teams lead to the conviction that next year the schoolboys in the southern part of the state should be recognized when the schedules are made up.—[Providence Journal.

TO FRAME NAVAL WARFARE LAWS.

Britain, America and Japan agree on the method of blockading, contending for the right to seize blockade runners at any time or place. This is opposed to the Continental view, that only warships actually engaged in blockading have the right to seize vessels. These same three powers opposed the Continental contention that a belligerent has a right to destroy seized vessels before trial, as was done, for instance, by Russia, with British merchantmen during the late war.

The conference will differ on the responsibility of a neutral power for a ship leaving one of its ports as merchantman, and afterwards being transformed into a man-of-war, as in the case of the Alabama. The United States naturally very strongly supports the view that the neutral power is responsible, and, strangely enough, she finds support not only from France and Japan, but also from Great Britain. The other powers take the opposite view.

The right of belligerent ships to coal in neutral ports also has divided the conference into two factions. American, Great Britain, Japan and France contend that a ship should make but one visit to a neutral port, and be given only sufficient coal to carry her to a home port; the other powers, however, hold that a ship should be allowed to visit a neutral port and fill up with coal as often as she can.

A number of other questions, largely technical, also will be considered.

REMOVING THE TELEPHONE POLES.

The telephone gang is engaged in taking down its aerial wires on Bellevue avenue from John to Bowery streets, to permit the removal of the poles between Bath road and Bowery street. The electric light people put in their conduit below Bath road some weeks ago and the telephone company lost its in last week. In a few days it will have its wires clear of the poles, and as soon as the electric light wires are cleared the poles will be cut down. The telephone company has run underground laterals behind some of the blocks, and from poles there will distribute the lines to subscribers. The poles will still "adorn" the upper part of the Avenue.

Toyland!

Holiday Opening of Landers & Son,

167 Thames Street, Covell's Block.

BIGGER, BRIGHTER, JOLLIER THAN EVER!

There isn't a secret that Santa Claus knows that we haven't learned all about in our 40 odd years experience. The beautiful side of the toy business is this: no longer is money spent on toys thrown away. Modern toys are now a valuable aid to the education of any child, furnishing as they do wonderful lessons of the world's greatest inventions, industries and art, and adding as they must in developing any particular bent a child may have. And what is more they bring parents and children closer together than the old-fashioned toys—frequently we have heard a young mother say that she spent as much time playing with the toys given to her children as the children did. The toys were so fascinating and so much more interesting than anything she had ever owned when a youngster.

Electric and Mechanical Railroads have been recently added to toydom. Most of these outfits teach how to operate switches, how to shut off the power, how to shunt cars from one track to another. Grand Central stations and sub-stations are at different points along the road, with bridges, signal stations, tunnels, draw bridges and turntables. Extra locomotives and cars can be added. In fact a Complete Toy American Railway System. Mechanical toys, and hill climbers, Juvenile Automobiles, Stables, Garages, Coach Houses and complete Villages, and the Clay Modelling Outfits, that differ in many respects from those of previous years. This is an easily handled modelling paste, with which you can model all sorts of animals, reptiles and birds, combined in a set, which many not by any means in the juvenile class would appreciate.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF KEEN SUFFERING

Rheumatism Developed Burning, Painful Sores on Legs—Tortured Day and Night—Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail—Wife Had Debility and Pains in Back.

BOTH USED CUTICURA AND ARE WELL AGAIN

"My husband had been a great sufferer with rheumatism for nearly fifteen years. At first it was in his hands, but after a while it was in the flesh and finally running sores broke out on his legs, from below the knees to the ankles. There are no words to tell all the discomfort and great suffering he had to endure night and day. He had every kind of remedy and three physicians treated him, but after the expense without any good results we were discouraged. Some day I happened to read about Cuticura Remedies. I asked him if he would not try them. 'No,' said he, 'it's no use, I've spent enough money now.' The next day I ordered five dollars' worth of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. He began to use them without confidence but after these were all the sores were healed. The healing has stopped, and the pains left and he is well. After three months he went to work. Two years later the pains and sores started again, after he had been working hard and had taken cold. But as soon as I used Cuticura again it cured him. Two years ago I used Cuticura Pills for general debility. They did me a great deal of good and made me well. I recommend Cuticura Ointment in my back and children to a friend. Cuticura Soap is the best for babies." (Signed) Mrs. A. V. Albert, Upper Freehold, N. J., July 21, 1905.

ACCEPTS ALGECIRAS ACT.

Sultan of Morocco Also Agrees to Conditions Laid Down by Powers.

PARIS, Dec. 4.—It is announced here that Abd Hafid, the new sultan of Morocco, has definitely accepted the Algeciras act, the attendant conditions by the powers for the recognition of his sultanate.

ARMY AND ITS STRENGTH.

Desertions Fewer in 1908 Than in Any Year Since 1901.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The complaint of the War Department against desertions in the army is meeting with some success, according to Adjutant General Ainsworth, U. S. A., who stated in a report to the Secretary of War for public today, that the number of desertions was less than in any other fiscal year since 1901. The desertions during the year were 4,505, or 4.6 per cent. The number of enlistments in the army during the year 1907 the percentage rose to 5.1 and in 1906 it reached 5.4 per cent. General Ainsworth says that of the white men reported as deserters, 5 per cent of the colored men deserted. General Ainsworth says that the certainty of apprehension has reduced the number of desertions.

The total strength of the army at the beginning of the year 1908, was 78,166, as against a year previous of 79,166. Recruiting tests ordered during the year 19 officers were placed on the retired list.

Speaking of the difficulties experienced in obtaining recruits, General Ainsworth says that the earnest and continued efforts of the officers engaged in recruiting, a sufficient number of recruits was obtained not only to fill the vacancies occurring during that year, but also to make considerable progress in filling the army to its maximum authorized strength."

BILL WITHDRAWN FROM HOUSE.

Government and Church Cannot Agree on Education Measure.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—In consequence of the inability of the government to come to an agreement with the church party regarding the education bill, the measure has been withdrawn from the House. This announcement was made by Premier Asquith in the Commons today. The deadlock between the government and the church followed the demand made by the Archbishop of Canterbury for a larger grant for nonrate-aided schools than the government was willing to allow. The bill was backed by Walter Runciman, president of the board of education.

MIDDLETOWN.

Republicans Allow Today's Special Assembly Election to Go by Default.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The town of Middletown is holding a special election today, to choose a senator and representative in the General Assembly. The election is attracting little interest, as there are no candidates in opposition to the Citizens' nominees and there is no doubt about the result.

At the state election in November, through an error on the official ballots, the supposedly successful candidates, representing the Citizens' Association were thrown out by the State Returning Board and the Republican candidates declared elected. The latter, Charles H. Ward and Joel Peckham, refused to accept the offices tendered them, and as they officially declined it was necessary for the town to call a special meeting.

The Citizens' Association renominated its candidates, Abram A. Brown for senator and Frank T. Peckham for representative. The Republicans, believing that the voters of the town expressed their preferences in favor of the Citizens' candidates in the regular election, have named no candidate for the special election, and it is understood they will generally absent themselves from the polls today, allowing Messrs. Brown and Peckham to secure the choices from which they technically were excluded them in November.

Yesterday concluded the second day of the Christmas sale at Holy Cross guild house and the affair was a decided success in every particular. While many more articles came in yesterday to replenish the various booths, the close of the evening found little unsold. The sale at the domestic booth was unusually large, so much so that Miss Arvista Champlin, who was in charge, has several orders yet to fill. Light refreshments, with ice cream and cake, were sold last evening in place of the regular supper of the previous day, and dancing was had in the evening. Miss Elsie Chase gave several musical selections during the afternoon and also played for the dancing. Mrs. Phebe E. T. Manchester, president of the guild, served afternoon tea. The affair was so well planned and carried out that the occasion was the source of great satisfaction to the large number who attended, as well as to all who assisted.

A large number of stone walls are being erected, much painting and repairing is being done and new roof is place here. A portion of Green End Avenue and Third Beach road is being macadamized.

The town rate is unusually low, even the narrow minded having become to realize that economy could step across. These same conditions date back 20 years and it is the lowest in their memories.

Mr. Frank Lewis has been making cedar posts along the roadside opposite his house on Green End avenue, thereby improving the appearance of the well and adding another to the number of fine trees.

THE ROSE-DOUGH WEDDING IN WESTERLY.

The home of Captain and Mrs. Frank H. Rathbun in Westerly was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening when Miss Chester Rose and Mr. Gertrude Elsie Dodge, both of Block Island, were married by Rev. Arthur M. Dixon, pastor of the Broad Street Congregation Church. The wedding march was played by Miss Fanny Pendleton of Westerly. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Homer Dodge of Block Island were best man and matron of honor. The bride was attired in white and wore a veil. She carried a large bouquet of Bride roses. Mrs. Dodge was gowned in pearl gray and carried Daybreak pinks.

After the wedding a luncheon was served by Mrs. Robinson, assisted by Miss Winnifred Matthews. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Rose returned to Block Island, but will later go to Jacksonville, Fla., where they will spend the winter. The bride is well known in Westerly, where she has many friends.

ROOSEVELT WRITES HAUGHTON.

Congratulates Harvard Coach for Victorious Football Team.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 1.—Coach Percy D. Haughton of the Harvard football eleven has received a letter from President Roosevelt congratulating him and his team on the victory over Yale. Coach Haughton refuses to make the public the text of the letter, saying that the letter is personal, and intended only as correspondence between the President and himself.

THREE SQUARES WIPED OUT.

Fire Starts in Moving Picture House; 65 Families Homeless.

CENTRALIA, Pa., Dec. 4.—Sixty-five families are homeless in this city as the result of a fire which wiped out three squares of property in the heart of the town. The fire started last night in a building occupied by a moving picture show, and spread rapidly among the frame houses. The total loss is estimated at $100,000.

DR. BULL SEES FRIENDS DAILY.

Physicians Issue Statement to Contradictory Reports About Him.

The physicians who are attending Dr. William W. Bull issued a statement last night in which they say that the patient is to be given his chair and to sit up in it if he wishes.

Since his removal to the Plaza Hotel an improvement has been satisfactorily noted to attend the case, the doctors say, but as many contradictory reports have appeared recently in the newspapers they thought it would be proper to make the following statement:

"Although still confined to his bed, Dr. Bull is able to sit up in a chair and to see his friends each day. No further bulletin will be issued unless some radical change occurs." Several weeks ago the physicians issued a statement saying that hope for Dr. Bull's recovery was practically abandoned.

KILLED DURING ELECTRIC EXPOSURE.

A domestic servant of Stamford was killed in an electric storm. It was recently added that the girl was electrocuted. The employee at the clock of the office, pulled the girl from the faucet to which she was clinging. The coroner believes that the women's shoes were wet, and that as she stood on a register, a complete circuit was made when her hand touched the faucet, which had defective insulation.

FOURTH BIG FIRE WITHIN A YEAR.

Portland's Loss This Time Approximately $500,000.

Two Railway Docks Destroyed and Steamship Damaged.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 4.—Portland's fourth great fire within a year occurred early today when two of the eight docks of the Grand Trunk Railway Company were destroyed, together with three sheds and their contents and a steamship. Considerable was really burned at a total loss estimated at hundreds of thousands. The two great elevators of the Grand Trunk Steamship Company were threatened for three hours, but the flames were prevented from reaching any substantial extent.

Starting in the freight shanty of the Grand Trunk railroad shortly after 1 o'clock, the fire quickly reached the No. 1 shed, under the influence of a strong westerly wind, which carried sparks over the entire length of the eight sheds. It was not long before No. 2 shed was alight, following a series of explosions, a second call was sounded. Help was also asked from Lewiston. Both cities responded, but when the apparatus from those places arrived the fire was under control. The firemen were forced to extend their line the length of the docks and sheds, and were constantly quenching incipient blazes which, with a little more night have resulted in a general conflagration. It was necessary to tear down several conveyors which are used to carry the grain from the elevators into the steamers, as these offered a possible means of access to the elevators by the flames.

The private fire department of the Grand Trunk railway helped considerably to save the property. Men were called from the nearby city and organized into a fire-fighting force. The auxiliary sprinkling apparatus, too, was responsible for a certain extent for the early control of the flames. However, the fact that there is an extension dividing place between docks 3 and 4 aided, probably more than any other factor, in preventing a further spread, as the few sparks which crossed the space during the first stages of the fire were largely spent, and not carried any distance, the wind having died down.

Steamer Corinthian of the Dominion line was invaded by the sparks, and from the bay stood in taken decks for the cattle which would have been loaded on board tomorrow, just previous to sailing for Liverpool, the fire commenced to No. 2 shed, and later to No. 3 hold, in which a large portion of the cargo had been loaded, and during the afternoon it also started in No. 1 hold, despite the fact that the holds were all full with water from several tons and the Grand Trunk railway fire screen, and filled with steam from the steamship's boilers.

DEATH OF E. J. CONNELL.

Well Known Attache of the Casino Expires on a Steamer Bound for Bermuda.

News was received in Newport yesterday afternoon from the American consul at Kingston, Jamaica, that Mr. E. J. Connell, who left here Thanksgiving night and sailed last Saturday on steamship Orinoco for Bermuda, had died on board the steamer. The information reached the American consul through a wireless message sent from the steamship by Louis Chase, a Newport boy, who is the wireless operator on the boat. No further particulars of the manner of the death have been received, and it is supposed that it was caused by heart disease. The report was received with widespread expressions of regret in this city, where Mr. Connell was well known, and particularly among the officers, employes and patrons of the Newport Casino, where he had been employed as a boy and as tennis instructor for 20 years, and was held in high esteem.

Mr. Connell was born in Newport and as a boy attended St. Mary's parochial school. About 20 years ago he secured employment at the Casino, and was steadily advanced in his work until he became instructor in lawn tennis and court tennis, and was second only to Mr. Thomas Pettitt, who was in charge. For several winters he had also been in charge of the lawn and court tennis at Aiken, S. C., and in the two positions, at Newport and Aiken, acquired a wide acquaintance among the summer residents here and the winter residents in the South. He had instructed many of the men and women who are regular patrons of the game at the Casino, and had never been the occasion of a complaint to the superintendent, for lack of courtesy or inattention to duty. Superintendent Parrott of the Casino says that in the 24 years during which Mr. Connell was employed there there had not been a word, or the occasion for a word, against him, and that every patron spoke of him in the highest terms.

The esteem in which he was held is shown by the recent action of several of the summer residents, including Miss Edna Barger and Mrs. Barger-Wallach, in providing for the vacation trip to Bermuda, which it was hoped would benefit his health, and the ample provision for his family's comfort during his absence. It was expected that the trip would be of so much benefit that he could resume his work at Aiken early next year.

Throughout the city Mr. Connell had a wide circle of acquaintances, his kindly disposition having made for him many warm personal friends, who knew him as Uncle Ned, Sandy, and "Strike" which name came from his schooldays and was retained to the end. He was a member of Newport Grove, I. Knights of Columbus, and of Newport Lodge of Elks, and a prominent member at the meetings of the two societies. Outside, where his popularity was as widespread as in other walks in life.

Mr. Connell leaves a widow, formerly Miss Mary Grady, to whom he was married four years ago, and an infant child. Besides her Mrs. Alfred Connell and two brothers, Messrs. Patrick and John Connell, survive.

At the meeting of Newport Council, Knights of Columbus, last evening a committee of three was appointed to go to New York and report the body to Newport when it arrives. It is expected that the body will be sent back on the next steamer between Kingston for New York.

THE COLLEGE SINGING GIRLS.

Second Entertainment in Artillery Course—First Ladies' Night at Armory.

The first in a series of ladies' nights was given by the Newport Artillery at the armory on Clarke street last evening with a large attendance of friends of the company. Not to disappoint many women without a ladies' night would be unwise, so the guests were given free use of the armory, with its opportunities for bowling, pool and cards, and at the end for dancing.

Early in the evening, when the company was drawn up in the drill hall, a pleasant ceremony took place. Dr. Bonner, surgeon of the company, presented the company's medals to those who had made the best scores in the indoor shooting and the high scores on the outdoor ranges. The medals were given to Lieutenant Colonel Frank P. King, Captain Chester L. Wilson, Lieutenant F. J. Peckham, Corporal Thomas Peckham and Private Ezra James and D. M. Young, who completed the company's ride team. Private James also received the medal for the best score on the outdoor range and Sergeant Lysander Shed the medal for the second best.

For the dancing which followed, and included the entertainment, Rhowers orchestra furnished a pleasing program of music.

The next entertainment in the Artillery course will be given by The College Singing Girls and Mr. Walter Eccles. The members of the Singing Girls are professional singers, selected so far as possible from young women who have been college students, and the program is given with the dash and enthusiasm of college life. The program comprises a variety of selections, including college songs, sung with the spirit and action peculiar to them; songs characteristic of different countries, rendered in appropriate costumes; Spanish songs, with an accompaniment of castanets, mandolin and guitars, and instrumental numbers. Among the novelties is "The Drummer Song" and chorus from the opera of "Pauline" in which four of the young women appear as drummer boys. Mr. Eccles is an entertainer with a record extending over ten years and including every state in the Union.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

Last evening a surprise party was given in honor of Miss Mary Grady, at her home on Burnside avenue, by the members of the "S. W. T. K. A." Club, and a number of others, who brought everything which goes with such an affair. The evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music, and recitations, games and dancing, O'Brien's orchestra furnishing the music, and Mr. Wogan the prompting. At midnight the gathering sat down to supper, the different colored streamers over the tables making a beautiful scene. At its conclusion dancing was resumed, which included a cotillion. Miss Katherine Grady assisted her sister in receiving and entertaining the guests, as did also Miss Catherine Miller.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4, Wall Street—The stock market opened strong, with Amalgamated Copper at 83⅞, American Smelting 92½, Anaconda 49⅝, Atchison 95⅝, Baltimore & Ohio 107⅝, Canadian Pacific 175⅝, Chesapeake & Ohio 50⅞, Erie 32¼, Great Northern preferred 142½, Great Northern Ore 74, Missouri Pacific 95½, Missouri, Kansas & Texas 33⅝, National Lead 82⅝, New York Central 116⅝, Northern Pacific 142⅝, Pennsylvania 129, Reading 158½, Rock Island 24, St. Paul 150¾, Southern Pacific 118½, Southern Railway 25⅝, Union Pacific 180⅝, United States Steel 51⅝ to 51⅝, United States Steel preferred 112⅝, and Wabash preferred 28½.

10—Prices started strongly upwards in the opening dealings in stocks, a number of the low-priced issues sharing with the usual market leaders a prominent place in the dealings. Wabash preferred and Great Northern preferred advanced 1⅝, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Illinois Central, Colorado & Southern, Louisville & Nashville, Union Pacific and Pacific Mail a point, and Great Northern Ore Certificates, Atchison, Chesapeake & Ohio and Missouri Pacific large fractions.

11—Representative stocks of all classes were brought on a liberal scale, especially Great Northern preferred, which rose 3, and Northern Pacific. Business was active and prices rose steadily on a constantly widening market. Gains of a point or more were very general.

Noon—Money on call, firmer, at 2½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 3⅝ to 4½ per cent. The strong stocks made additional fractional gains, but the market became quieter and the tone in general steady, but with a check to the advancing tendency. Coals were strong.

THE OCEAN DRIVE SEA WALL.

Contract Awarded Despite a Petition Asking that Work Be Done by the City.

The Board of Aldermen held its weekly session Thursday evening, Mayor Clarke presiding and all the members being present.

The weekly pay rolls were approved as follows: Streets and highways, $907.45; police, $720.42; fire department, $435.77; salaries, $194.64; public buildings, $11.54; firemen in theatres $36.

Bills for cleaning wardrooms, $10, were approved.

The application of some of the wardens and others for extra pay for last Tuesday's election was referred back to the city clerk to ascertain how much the various officials had worked over-time.

The bill of Alexander Nicol, for $5,606, on the Mumford School, was ordered paid.

A petition was received from Thomas Preece and others, asking, in view of the condition of work here, that the board have the sea wall on Ocean avenue built by the street commissioner with Newport labor, rather than by contract. Mr. Cottrell, after the names had been read, said he did not recognize the name of a single stone mason on the petition. Street Commissioner Sullivan said he knew nothing of the petition until told by the city clerk a short time before that it was in. He and Mr. Cottrell, and later Julius Burdick, looked over the list of signers and could not discover a single stone mason or laborer, the only ones who could be employed. There were two bakers, an oil peddler, a carpenter and a variety of other occupations represented. The petition was received.

A communication was received from G. Ashley Hazard, asking for appointment as census taker.

Bids for the sea wall on Ocean avenue were opened. The wall was to be 250 feet, more or less, and to be laid according to specifications furnished by the street commissioner. The bids were as follows: Harris & O'Neill, $1,485, or $5 a running foot; Kerr & Hesson, $1000 a running foot; Darling & Slade, $15 a running foot; Morgan Bros., $1,885; Alexander Booth, $1,897. The contract was awarded to Harris & O'Neill, on the condition that only Newport labor be employed.

Mr. Anthony reported, regarding the name of Extension street, that there was a difference of opinion as to what the name should be and the inhabitants thought the board should give a hearing. A hearing on the name of Extension street was set for Thursday, December 17.

Then the board adjourned to the Council chamber for the hearing on the Washington Street extension.

MEETING OF CODDINGTON DIVISION.

Coddington Division, Newport League of Good Citizenship, held its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. Miss Bessie C. Newton in charge and President Harold Greason in the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Miss Aimee Wilde, the following Good Order Officers were elected for one month: Jack Hodgson, and Mary Hude. The ordinances in regard to bicycles were considered and the historical talk was given. This year there are nearly 500 children enrolled in the different divisions of the Newport League of Good Citizenship.

JUST MISSED HER IN ITS FALL.

There came near being another funeral, as the result of the funeral of Thomas C. Sherman yesterday afternoon. When the band heading the Masons came down Thames street after the parade, some of the girls at Lappin's were looking out of an upper window. In doing so they threw a large potted palm out of the window, and it came so close to striking a little girl on the sidewalk that even big Officer Conroy was frightened. Some of the dirt from the pot landed on the girl's hat, but she was not struck. The pot was of course smashed to bits on the sidewalk. The girls up stairs disappeared.

LICENSES GRANTED.

The License Commission Thursday evening reconsidered its vote refusing a license to Read & Draper, in the Gas block, and granted them a retail license, which makes the total number granted 47. Three more can still be granted.

Club licenses were granted to the Montezuma Club, Reading Room, Clarendon and Lawrence Clubs. It was surprised that these club licenses would be counted with the others granted, but City Solicitor Burke said the Providence lawyers had discovered one of the loopholes in the liquor law and the clubs do not count.

A MEMORIAL TABLET.

A memorial tablet is about to be placed in the First Methodist Episcopal Church for Mr. John Allan, who died in 1905, and was chorister and a prominent member of the church for many years. ONE NAVAL STATION.

All Local Branches of the Establishment Consolidated.

Admiral Merrell to be at the Head of the "Narragansett Bay" Station.

What is regarded by many as the first step toward the re-organization of the Navy Department by its new Secretary, Truman H. Newberry, possibly pointing to the abolition of the bureau system, was taken Thursday, when orders were issued for the consolidation of all the naval institutions located here under one command, with Rear Admiral John P. Merrell as the commandant.

The order also changes the name of the naval properties, thus consolidated, to "The United States Naval Station, Narragansett Bay. The stations have heretofore had separate commands within the "Second Naval District," which extends from Chatham, Cape Cod, to and including New London. Rear Admiral Merrell has been the commandant of the naval district for some time.

The institutions affected by the latest orders from Washington are the Naval War College the Naval Training Station, the naval hospital and the marine barracks, on Coasters' Harbor Island; the Naval Torpedo Station, on Goat Island and the naval coaling station at Bradford. Under the new organization these places, it is understood, will continue to exercise the same functions as formerly, although under the direct command of Rear Admiral Merrell.

Under the old scheme Rear Admiral Merrell has been in charge of the stations included in the Newport district only in so far as the movement of ships and the personnel of the force was concerned. The routine business of the various departments of the district has not been under his direct supervision, but instead the several stations have been in direct communication with the naval bureaus in Washington of which they were, respectively, component parts.

While there is nothing definite to show that Secretary Newberry's order foreshadows such a radical departure from the naval methods which have been in vogue so many years as the abolition of the bureau system—a system which has been subjected to severe criticism of late—it is felt that such a construction of the order is not impossible. Secretary Newberry, who has been the assistant secretary under Victor H. Metcalf, is said to possess the full confidence of President Roosevelt, and also has been a close student of the conditions that prevail in the Navy Department.

It has been rumored of late that President Roosevelt is none too well satisfied with the bureau system. There have been reports that Secretary Newberry is to have a free hand in bringing about such reforms in departmental procedure as he deems desirable. Those acquainted with naval affairs see in the order of Secretary Newberry a sign that a re-organization of the department is already under way, although Mr. Newberry did not take up his duties as Secretary until Tuesday last.

One of the possible changes suggested as a way of eliminating the bureau system without disrupting the service is through the appointment of a general board, a sort of Secretary's cabinet, with members who shall have charge of the conduct of the several branches of the service.

The strongest factor in the drawing of the conclusion that something unusual is under way in the department in Washington is the fact that practically the same sort of a consolidation of the various arms of the naval service at Newport was accomplished about a dozen years ago, to be abandoned later because of the claim by nearly all concerned that it interfered seriously with the business of the various district departments.

Instead of communicating directly with the Washington bureaus it was found necessary to forward the business through the commandant's office, who, in turn, would send it along to Washington, there to be apportioned among the various bureaus. Opponents of the idea at that time claimed that it was just so much more "red tape" and caused just so much more delay. It is claimed by men acquainted with the situation 12 years ago that the department is hardly likely to try again a plan which has already been found unsatisfactory. Hence the idea that some radical changes are being contemplated in Washington.

Of the seven naval institutions affected by the order, every one is under the direction of a different bureau. The coaling station at Bradford, where Chief Boatswain Walsh is in command, comes under the equipment bureau; the War College, of which Rear Admiral Merrel is president, is responsible to the Secretary's office; the Naval Training Station, Commander William F. Fullam commanding, to the navigation bureau; the Torpedo Station, Lieutenant Commander Mark L. Bristol commanding, to the ordnance bureau; the naval hospital, in charge of Medical Director Henneberger, to the medicine and surgery outfit; the marine barracks, Major Lucas commanding, to Brigadier General Elliott, commandant of the marine corps and the navy pay office, Pay Director Drury.

Narragansett bay has long been mentioned as the site for a great naval base for this coast, and starting with the Torpedo Station there has been a steady growth for the past 40 years. Nominally the senior officer in any locality is the authority for that locality, but with so many heads as there have been in Narragansett bay, and no actual head, there has naturally been from time to time more or less friction between the officers in command on Coasters' Harbor Island, where there have been many commands, there have been complaints in the proper conduct of correspondence, which resulted two weeks ago in a department order which officially designated Admiral Merrell as commandant, with Commander Fullam was designated as commanding officer of the Training Station.

Under the new routine Admiral Merrell now has three designations, commandant of the Second Naval District, president of the Naval War College and commandant of the Naval Station of Narragansett Bay. The new order may be a forerunner of a general change in the naval bureau [illegible] that its formulation has [illegible] to do with the [illegible] recent [illegible] of the Atlantic fleet.

"INSPIRATION OF THE BIBLE."

Subject of Rev. Mr. Richards's Talk Before Graded Union—Lesson Taught by Mrs. Easton.

At the weekly meeting of the Newport Graded Union for Sunday School Teachers Thursday afternoon the devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. T. Fred Kaull. After the hymn, "My Faith Looks up to Thee," Mrs. Tyler accompanist, Mrs. Kaull read a prayer and Rev. Mr. Richards led in prayer.

In the absence of Miss Lizzie Ellis, president of the Union, Miss Elizabeth Kaull, vice president, was in charge and introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Rev. James Austin Richards, whose subject was "The Inspiration of the Bible." In opening Mr. Richards spoke of the present uncertainty in regard to the inspiration of the Bible due to our psychological and historical studies and to the fact that the Bible does not touch our lives at as many points as it once did, when it was considered an authority on all the sciences.

Mr. Richards proceeded from the known to the unknown explaining how he would try to prove to a boy that the Bible is the book of books. A book is valued because of its age, subject, truthfulness and literary quality, that is, because of its practical power. The author of a book is of little worth since we learn more about the author from the book than from the book about the author. Inerrancy is also not a fair test of a book, it being unfair to judge a book apart from its purpose. No book pretends to tell the truth about everything and furthermore no one could be found who could decide whether the truth had been told about everything.

The Bible stands the test of age being the oldest book most men are now reading; it tells about the greatest things in the world; it is the source of the greatest theme in the universe and tells the things which are most true about everything, and is the wonder of antiquity to prince and beggar alike, bringing to both a message of equal power and judgment. All these tests prove the Bible unique in the history of literature. Such a book which answers our needs must be inspired since in its production God and man were in special connection.

The lesson—"Solomon Chooses Wisdom"—1 Kings III. 4-15—was taught by Mrs. Roland J. Easton, who interspersed her teaching with personal experiences with boys. The important thought to be brought out in the classes is our power of choosing the good or the bad.

KYRLE BELLEW IN "THE THIEF."

"The Thief," in which Kyrle Bellew will be seen here, is a drama of force and originality and the success which it has attained in London, Paris and New York has been duplicated in lesser cities, owing to the appeal made by this simple story. Henri Bernstein, the author, is regarded as one of the master minds of modern stagecraft and the critics of New York and Paris announce "The Thief" as his masterpiece, despite subsequent successes.

In this play Mr. Bernstein tells a story of a theft committed mysteriously, and in the unravelling of the plot and unmasking of the thief he brings into play all the skill which the great dramatist possesses. "The Thief" is a study in suspended interest and prolonged excitement. To the more profound student of the theatre Bernstein succeeds by his characterization and the men and women in his play life and love and not as flesh-and-blood men and women, rather than the puppets of playwrights.

Mr. Bellew will present the play with the same support and scenic environments which he has had in the larger cities.

THE FENBURG REPERTOIRE.

The Fenburg Stock Company, during its engagement at the Opera House will present a list of melodramas including "The King and Queen of Gamblers," a play which made A. H. Woods, the New York manager, his fortune; "The Millionaire's Revenge," written around the life of Madison Square Red Garden; "Tempted by Hell Bell"; "The Life of An Actress"; "Five Nights in a Bar Room"; "At Piney Ridge," and "The Hawk and The Love" (which "Lion and The Brute"). The last named is of the melodramatic world order and is supposed but never during the week on account of the strain on the leading [illegible]. A number of vaudeville acts are to be used, headed by Hoops Hoopingal, [illegible] a feature with Rockstraw's minstrels, and including Earl Walton, [illegible] Lee [illegible], Fern Foster, James [illegible] and Marie McNeil.

ROLL-CALL AND SOCIAL.

As a Part of the Exercises the First Methodist Episcopal Church Provides for Its Finances.

The members of the First Methodist Episcopal Church and congregation had a late time Thursday evening, on the occasion of the annual roll-call and social gathering. There was a large attendance which almost completely filled the Sunday School room, about 200 responding to their names either in person or by proxy. There were introductory devotional exercises by the pastor, Rev. Joseph Cooper; there was the roll-call itself, always an interesting feature of such a meeting; there were vocal solos by Miss Florence G. Carley, of the choir, with the organist, Mrs. Gray, accompanying, and by Mrs. Sadie Bailey King, with Miss Carley at the piano; there were recitations, each of its own kind, by Messrs. F. P. Webber and E. O. Andrews, and there was ice cream and cake, served by the ladies.

To crown all, there was a consideration of the finances of the church, with a happy result. Brief statements regarding the situation were made by the pastor, the chairman of the finance committee and the treasurer. Then, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Cooper, with the assistance of the committee, the familiar plan of a blackboard, divided into squares representing different amounts, which has proved so successful so many times in so many places, was introduced. Starting with some generous contributions, followed rapidly by others for smaller sums, the scheme was again so successfully worked that in a comparatively short time a result was reached which put everybody in a pleased state of mind, ready for the music, the recitations and the refreshments which came later in quick succession.

BOARD'S COUNT NEARS END.

With Four Wards of Woonsocket to Look Over, Complete Vote of State Will be Finished.

The State Returning Board has but four wards of Woonsocket to count to complete its labors for 1908. Yesterday the remaining districts of Warwick were counted as well as the vote of Westerly, West Greenwich and one district of Woonsocket.

Discrepancies in the count of two districts of the town of Warwick gave the candidates for the General Assembly on the Republican ticket net gains of well toward 100 by the board's count. While there was no doubt as to the result in that town, still the pluralities as returned by the wardens' figures have been largely increased. The districts where the gains were made were the Second and Fifth, the Democrats meeting with a straight loss of about 30 in the former and the Republicans a straight gain of about 40 in the latter.

The Second district of Warwick was first taken up. While the Republican candidates made slight gains of from one to five, the Democrats had a straight loss of from 25 to 30 each. In the Third and Fourth districts there was little if any change, but when the Fifth district package was opened, the certificate of the warden stated that 559 names were checked on the voting list at the election. When the board had completed its count, however, it was found that there was a total of about 600 ballots in the package. The gain was in favor of the Republicans. The Sixth district added 10 more votes to the Republican gain. The warden had counted in favor of the Democratic candidate 10 ballots on which there were double crosses, and, as these were declared defective by the board, it contributed 10 to the Republican gain.
